New Look for the City Website

We are very excited to announce the launch of our newly designed website at www.cityofodessamo.com. The primary role of our website is to provide information regarding the City of Odessa to our residents in a format that is easy to navigate and user friendly. But we also want to demonstrate how amazing our community is to others – vibrant, historic, and a wonderful place to call home. Cities thrive and grow not only through the support of its residents but by many who choose to visit our great community to shop, eat, and explore. The redesign of our website by creating a professional, cohesive, and positive appearance is a great way to accomplish all of these goals.

The new site design will be live as of June 1, 2021, but as with all new things, there may be a few glitches to address in the beginning. We appreciate your patience as we work through the new design to ensure everything is functioning as it should.

City Ordinances Available Online

The codification of our existing City Ordinances is now complete. The Code of Ordinances for the City of Odessa may now be found online in an easy to search format through Municode. A link to our ordinances can be found on our website at www.cityofodessamo.com.
